LABOUR INSPECTION AND THE CHALLENGES OF THE FUTURE

INVITATION

The National Labour Inspectorate is inviting you to participate in the international conference "Labour inspection and the challenges of the future" which will take place on 27-28 October 2022 at the National Labour Inspectorate Training Centre in Wrocław.

The event is addressed to representatives of institutions involved in broadly understood labour protection, in particular labour inspectorates associated in the Senior Labour Inspectors' Committee (SLIC) and International Association of Labour Inspection (IALI), and to relevant experts from Polish and foreign institutions.

We encourage all those interested to participate online and inform others about the event which is co-created by recognised speakers representing international organisations involved in the world of work and labour inspectorates from EU countries.

The conference will create an opportunity to exchange experience of labour inspectorates gathered in the course of their inspection and preventive activity as regards new and current issues of occupational safety and health in Europe and globally, including tools and solutions designed to overcome difficulties encountered when dealing with, among others, artificial intelligence, nanotechnologies, platform work, digitalisation, electromobility, as well as hazardous and reprotoxic substances.

The conference will also be a part of the celebrations of the 50th anniversary of the International Association of Labour Inspection.

We are convinced that the current and new challenges as well as the needs of labour inspections in Europe and globally must be reflected upon. Therefore, we encourage you to take part in this international discussion on issues which are crucial for the changing world of labour.

In order to participate online, please sign up by 14 October 2022 with this registration form: [\[LINK\]](#)
